

Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) Where Does It Come From?

CRF from US Department of Treasury

State Allocation

Direct Recipients

City of Columbus, Cuyahoga, Franklin, Hamilton, Montgomery, and/or Summit Counties

Ohio Department of Education (ODE)

Office of Budget and Management (OBM)

Other State Agencies (e.g. Agriculture and OMHAS)

Office of Higher Ed (ODHE)

Subawards to Schools

Subawards to Other Local Governments

Subawards to small businesses, nonprofits, and individuals

Used for own programs

To Local Governments via HB 481/614

To Public Libraries

To county/local agencies

Colleges, Universities, Career Centers, Joint Vocational Schools

Subawards to Schools

Subawards to Other Local Gov't

Subawards to small businesses, nonprofits, and individuals

Used for own programs

CRF Allocations

Broadband Connectivity

Note on Subawards:

Many entities are designing and implementing programs to share CRF funding with other governments, small businesses, not-for-profits, etc. in order to assist with relief efforts in areas with the most need. While this is allowable and encouraged, governments should keep in mind these may result in pass-through entity/subrecipient relationships that have not previously been undertaken by local governments. Additional information regarding this relationship and important considerations can be found in the AOS COVID webpage file titled Responsibilities under Uniform Guidance \(UG\) Act, 2 CFR §200 and AOS Advisory Memo Use of Federal Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security \(CARES\) Act Coronavirus Relief Funds \(CRF\) to Support Small Businesses and Provide Housing Assistance.